BREIF

The story world I made in this 3D Story Worlds project is called 'Plan H(η, eta)'. This is the world of my original character who is called H(η, eta), she is a clone man with two mechanical legs and a mechanical eye. This 3D model which was made through Maya is her room.

The story of 'Plan H' is that in a cyberpunk world, the main character H is investigating strange things happening in the city and trying to find out who she is. However the things she is investigating are about the unspeakable creatures which are related to Cthulhu Mythos. The stories that happened on her are a little bit like COC TRPG, but it's in a cyberpunk world.

► Due to what H investigating is about Cthulhu Mythos, so I tried my best add a specimen of a tentacle in her room.

Basically it's a cyberpunk world so I tried to make the room looks more science fiction. I used the colors I found on the colors.co. I think it works well.

Reflection

This is my first time modeling, obviously the final work has a lot of problems. First there are not enough items in the room, and also it doesn't look very cyberpunk, due it really takes time to model and I still don't understand Maya very well. I really need more time to practice. Second, because I haven't complete the settings of my story world yet, the style of the room is very strange, there are too few elements of Cthulhu Mythos. I may solve this problem in the future.

More pictures of my 3D model are upload to my blog.
